2011 Scholarship Awards

Our 2011 Scholarship Award Recipients

In this, our 3rd and final year as co-chairs of the Junior Program, Marty and I continue to be honored to get a peek into the accomplishments of the amazing young women who apply for the Jean Trainor Scholarship. We are exhausted just reading about all their academic, volunteer and sporting activities. How they find the time for all their extracurricular activities and still go to school and maintain their excellent GPAs is beyond us. In addition, they get out and play golf!

We'd like to congratulate each scholarship winner for 2011 and tell you a little bit about them.

Allie Lovallo After four years at Pittsford Mendon High School, Allie is headed to Bucknell University to major in Mechanical Engineering. Her 2 page resume indicates that as far back as 8th grade she was active in pretty much everything. Sports, included golf, basketball and softball. In addition to playing all these sports, she was awarded many honors and was team co-captain many times. She has been a volunteer in numerous community organizations since the 6th grade. She has won art awards, science awards and leadership awards. One thing that stands out is Allie's appreciation of her family who encouraged her every step of the way. We believe with all Allie has already accomplished and the support of her family, she is well on her way to an exciting and fulfilling future in any endeavor she pursues.*

Caitlyn O'Reilly Caitlyn has just graduated from Our Lady of Mercy. During her 6 years there, she played Varsity golf – this past year as the captain. She was on the bowling team for three years – one year as co-captain. In 2010, Caitlyn won the volleyball Most Improved Player. She received the NY Scholar Athlete Award for both golf and bowling. She was the head student representative for both the Mercy Blood Drive and the Hike for Habitat. After working hard with her 11th grade English teacher on improving her writing skills, Caitlyn won the $1000 scholarship for the Irish Heritage Essay Contest. She will be using that money at Stonehill College where she will be studying either Education or Psychology. She's a hard worker and goes after her goals with focus and diligence. She is a kind, thoughtful, and sensitive young woman and will certainly go far in whatever direction she chooses.

Emma Ritzmann will be attending Fairfield University. In her four years at Fairport High School, Emma has won many academic awards, played golf and was a member of the National Honor Society. She began golfing with her grandfather at the age of 6. Emma not only relishes the very special times and relationship she shares with her grandfather, she is grateful for the opportunities golf has given her. In a large school where sports are very important, she chose to join the lesser known varsity golf team over volley ball. Emma has participated in the 6 hole LPGA event for the past 3 years at Locust Hill, playing with Danielle Downey, Kris Tschetter and Jean Bartholomew. She came away from that experience remembering their very important advice; “Go to college and get your education. If you can golf in college, that’s a bonus.” Emma is taking that advice to heart as she heads to Fairfield to study Pre-Med and play Division 1 golf.*

Paige Thompson is a hard worker. This is proven by the improvement over the years in her golf scores bringing her index to a 5.6, her impressive 4.0 GPA at Pittsford Mendon High School and her acceptance at University of Pittsburgh to study pre-med and Biology. Paige has participated in and won many golf events, including last year's WRDGA Junior tournament (with a 71!). She has also used golf to fulfill her love of community service. She organized a golf tournament "100 Holes for CURE" in which 6 high school girls played 100 holes of golf in one day. They not only raised $5000 for CURE Childhood cancer, but collected 'a ton of equipment' for the First Tee of Rochester. University of Pittsburgh does not have a women's golf team, but we are confident that golf will continue to be a large part of Paige's life and she will always use the tools she's learned to guide her through her future.*

Andrea Weidman is graduating from Webster High School with a 3.9 GPA. She has a list of accomplishments too long to list, including academic honors and awards, community service involvement, sports participation and recognitions, clubs, on campus college Programs and she's already accumulated 12 college credits through MCC. And, she's worked for the last 3 years at Wegmans. Andrea will be attending University of Notre Dame to major in Finance, however she's still not certain that's what she'll end up doing. As she's been writing her college application essays she's been trying to answer the question "Who is the person that I want to become?". We are certain Andrea will use all her experiences to answer that question and continue her pursuit of a fulfilling, successful career and future.*
